

PHILLIPS FALL WAS DUE TO RYE

Ex-Corn King Posts Notice That All His Trades Are Closed.

HE IS FLAT BROKE

Certain Brokers Have Been Hounding Him Mercilessly to This Failure.

MARGIN MONEY GONE

Chicago, Jan. 14.—George Phillips, the ex-corn king has posted a notice on the board of trade this morning ordering that all his open trades be closed. He was forced to take this step on account of his inability to meet the demands for margins and the failure of promised outside assistance.

The raid on Phillips began yesterday. He was in heavily on wheat and rye and it was on the latter cereal that the principal fight against him was made. On the strength of his announcement rye fell rapidly from sixty-six and three-quarters to sixty.

Hounded Him Mercilessly
Phillips' attorney advised him to get out of the grain business because of repeated raids that would be made on him by two of the big local houses squeezed by Phillips in his corn deals, these houses it is claimed have hounded him mercilessly, overlooking no opportunity to ruin his deals since his last failure. Phillips made sixty thousand dollars but every penny of this will be paid to his creditors leaving him once more "flat broke."

Phillips in Sore Straits
Chicago, Jan. 14.—With nearly every member of the board of trade long on wheat and the price fallen 4 cents within a week, George H. Phillips, the former corn king, was asked yesterday by dozens of commission men to pay a margin of 5 cents.

With several millions of bushels of wheat and more than 1,000,000 bushels of rye on his hands, Mr. Phillips was embarrassed for the time and was busy all night trying to straighten out his deals. His manager said last night that it was hoped to pay the increased margins before 11 o'clock today, when the official time expires.

According to the rules of the board the margin may be raised to 10 per cent of the selling price plus the drop in price since the deal was made. With wheat at 50 cents and a drop of 3 cents the margin that can be demanded from Mr. Phillips is 11 cents.

It was said last night at the office of Mr. Phillips that that bears were out gunning for Mr. Phillips because he was long on wheat and rye. This statement was denied by many commission men who had called for margins. They said that the only men who were gunning for Mr. Phillips were the farmers, who raise more wheat than Mr. Phillips can buy.

It was said around the board building that it was impossible to estimate how much Mr. Phillips would have to put up in margins or how much wheat he had on hand.

George H. Phillips has had a meteoric career on the board, astonishing older traders by his methods and at times his wonderful success. He first came into prominence in the corn deal of November, 1900, when he took the price of corn up to 60 cents. Last May his famous blind pool with 280 members, was organized, and after throwing the market to tatters brought the firm of George H. Phillips & Co. to the ground. A reorganization was effected soon afterwards and Phillips resumed trading under his own name. His business has again been increasing very greatly during the last few months.

FIGHT OVER THE IRON RIVER ROAD

Supreme Court Will Not Render a Decision Until Jan. 28.—Butter Makers in Madison Today.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 14.—(Special)—The supreme court adjourned today without deciding whether it would grant a prerogative writ authorizing the attorney general to begin proceedings to restrain Receiver Frost from carrying out the order of the federal court order and tear up the Washburn, Bayfield and Iron River railroad. Arguments were heard today, and adjournment taken to Jan. 28, when a decision is expected.

In the federal court arguments were heard in the contempt proceedings against A. W. McLeod and others for interfering with the order to destroy the road. The court insisted on all the defendants being present in person, and they are expected this afternoon.

About one hundred members of the Wisconsin Butter Makers' association were present when the annual meeting opened in the assembly chamber this afternoon, and three hundred are expected by tomorrow. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Storm Bull, Prof. E. H. Farrington making response. Reports of officers and the annual address by President Fulmer, followed.

BOERS WILL TRY TO SPOIL CORONATION

Intend to Strike a Few Heavy Blows Just Before King Edward is Crowned.

London, Jan. 14.—The war office is informed that the Boers are saving their strength with a view of striking several heavy blows just previous to the king's coronation and thus spoiling the festivities. They think the resulting moral effect on the English opinion would be helpful to their cause. Kitchener therefore has been urged to redouble his efforts to terminate the war before the coronation.

Lord Kitchener reports that the Boer losses since the sixth have been two hundred killed, nine hundred wounded, two hundred and three captured and ninety-five surrendered.

An official dispatch from Johannesburg reports that General Bruce Hamilton's force pursued Botha and four hundred men for seven miles on the eleventh but were forced to abandon the chase because the horses gave out. The Boers lost one killed and thirty-three captured. The British lost one killed and four wounded.

MASON PLEADS FOR CUBAN RECIPROCITY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—The house resumed the discussion of the pension department bill this morning. Mason of Illinois addressed the senate today on the bill introduced by him yesterday relating to duties on goods received from Cuba. Mason urged the necessity of reciprocity with Cuba. Upon our request he said the Cubans had instructed in their constitution a pledge to make no political treaties without our consent. This practically bars forever effective commercial treaties.

MACRONI IS THE GUEST OF HONOR

Inventor of the Wireless Telegraphy Tells How to Use System.

TO ATTUNE SHIPS

Says Americans Stand First in the World in Applied Electrical Science.

SENDING OF MESSAGES

New York, Jan. 14.—Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy, was the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in the Astor gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria last night. The only formal addresses were those by President Charles Proteus Steinmetz, Signor Marconi, Professor Elihu Thomson and Dr. Michael I. Puhlin. Thomas A. Edison wrote that he would like to meet the young man who had the monumental audacity to attempt and succeed in jumping an electrical wave clear across the Atlantic Ocean, but was unable to accept the invitation. After thanking the institute for his reception, Signor Marconi said: "I think it is well known all over the world that Americans, in applied electrical engineering, stand first. I feel myself greatly honored to be among so many eminent men. With your permission I will give you a brief description of what my system has at present accomplished, especially in reference to use on ships, and what I hope it will accomplish in the future. Five years ago it was working over a distance of two miles, but its range has rapidly increased, until two months ago it was possible to communicate two miles."

"It may interest you to know that there are over seventy ships carrying permanent installations for wireless telegraphy. Of these thirty-seven are in the British navy, twelve in the Italian navy, and the others are on the large liners. There are over twenty stations in operation on land in Great Britain, and more are in course of construction. I think it is right that I should correct prevailing popular opinion. It appears to be the general opinion that when a message is sent into space any one with the necessary apparatus can intercept that message and read it. This, of course, would be very awkward for any kind of message. No one would wish to have his private affairs made public in that way. Messages can be read only when the receiver and transmitter are attuned. This attuned system as perfected is not at present in use on ships. It has been deemed necessary that each ship should be equipped with apparatus which will permit of its reading a message sent from any other ship, because of the possibility of aid being required in a case of danger. Therefore all ships are attuned so that one ship can call up any other ship."

RIOTING IN GERMAN CITY.

Unemployed in Frankfurt Smash Windows and Insult Citizens.

Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Jan. 11.—Crowds of unemployed are surging through the streets of this city. Several ugly collisions have taken place with the police. The officers use their swords unmercifully. A mounted policeman was pulled from his horse in a narrow street and soundly beaten. The authorities are enraged. The merchants in many places have been forced to lower their steel window blinds to prevent the smashing of their plate glass. The crowds amuse themselves with knocking off silk hats and with hurling insults at well-dressed people. The tension is increasing. The mounted police have been instructed to ride down the mob unsparingly.

Makeup Man and Burglar.

Kankakee, Ill., Jan. 14.—Frank King, 24 years old, a smart dresser and a favorite at social gatherings, has confessed to leading a double life, since he came here from Kentucky nine months ago. A makeup on a local evening paper by day, he was a successful burglar at night. He often handled columns of "scarce head" type telling stories of his own mysterious burglaries. As he left the Daily Times office this noon he was arrested for the robbery early Sunday morning of Rogers' drug store. Stolen goods were found in his room and he confessed to four burglaries within the last three weeks.

Trial Postponed at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Ill., Jan. 14.—The trial of Mrs. Mamie Barnes for the alleged poisoning of her husband, Dr. Joseph L. Barnes, last May, was called in the circuit court this morning. The defense had understood that the motion to quash the indictment against Mrs. McWilliams, mother of Mrs. Barnes, would be argued in the morning, but the state was not prepared and the matter was deferred. Court adjourned pending the arrival of seventy-five jurymen.

EX-GOV. HOARD CAUSES A PANIC

He and H. C. Adams Change Base on Oleomargarine Bill.

DROP GROUT BILL

Dairymen Are Thrown Into a Scare by Unexpected Attitude of Wisconsin Men.

FAVOR TAWNEY BILL

Washington, Jan. 14.—Sensational developments marked the opening of the oleomargarine bills yesterday in the room of the committee on agriculture of the house. Ex-Governor Hoard of Wisconsin, president of the National Dairy Union, threw the bomb today that caused the commotion, and for a while there was danger of the meeting breaking up in disorder.

Colored or Uncolored, Oil
Representative Tawney of Minnesota has presented a bill in which oil colored in imitation of butter is taxed ten cents a pound, while uncolored oil is untaxed. The Grout bill, which passed the House last session imposes a tax of one-quarter of a cent a pound upon uncolored oil and a ten-cent tax upon the colored product.

Mr. Grout having retired, from Congress, Representative McCleary of Minnesota took up the fight and introduced on the first day of this session a bill similar in phraseology and identical in every way. It was the first bill introduced. The Grout, or the McCleary bill, as it is now called, was considered the dairymen's bill. Upon it they were expected to unite and press an effective campaign.

Caused Consternation
Governor Hoard, Secretary Knight of Chicago and H. C. Adams of Wisconsin, chairman of the executive committee of the Dairy Union, were present at the meeting. There was no intimation that they had deserted the Grout bill until Governor Hoard spoke in favor of the Tawney bill. He created a stampede. The members of the committee looked on in amazement. Consternation reigned supreme.

It was several moments before the importance of the situation was thoroughly realized, and then the president of the National Dairy Union became the storm center. He was assailed with a storm of questions and would have been deluged had not Representative Graft of Illinois come to his rescue. He was extricated with difficulty, and the dairy interests are trying to locate their bearings today.

Snag Was Struck

The Grout bill provides a tax of one quarter of a cent a pound on the uncolored product, but the Tawney bill proposes to permit its manufacture untaxed. In this feature the snag was struck. In advocating the Tawney bill Governor Hoard, Secretary Knight and Mr. Adams undo, in the estimation of the dairymen, all the good that has been accomplished by the present law, and which the advocates of the Grout bill insist should be perpetuated.

SENATOR HOARD TO AID THE FILIPINOS

Spings a Sensation in the Senate This Afternoon—Hanna Against the Nicaragua Route.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Senator Hoard of Massachusetts sprung a sensational surprise upon the senate this afternoon when he introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee of seven senators to examine into the conduct of the war in the Philippines, the administration of the government there and the condition and character of the inhabitants of the archipelago. The committee is to have power to send for papers and persons, to administer oaths and to sit during the sessions of the senate.

Senator Hoard feels that the Filipinos are entitled to better consideration than the war department is disposed to accord them. He believes, moreover, that the present government is inadequate and that the military operations which have been conducted were unnecessarily cruel and severe. He wants them stopped.

Hanna Favors Panama Route.

Senator Hanna is engaged in organizing the opposition to the Nicaragua canal bill. While the senator does not profess to be openly opposed to the measure, he is warning the republicans of the senate against being too precipitate in their adoption of any canal scheme. He says that the republican party cannot afford to take any chances with a measure of such gigantic proportions, which may involve the expenditure of $500,000,000 or more.

Bereaved Mother Stricken Blind.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 14.—While standing beside her dead baby's body, Sunday, Mrs. Philip Westerman of Metes, St. Louis county, was stricken blind. She had just wiped away her tears and bowed over the little white coffin for a last look at the child when her sight was suddenly and without warning taken away. All efforts to cure her have failed.

GEORGE W. HINMAN BUYS INTER-OCEAN

William Penn Nixon Announces That He Has No Further Interest in the Publication.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—George W. Hinman yesterday acquired entire control of the Chicago Inter Ocean and became its editor and publisher. The sale of the property was concluded at the Holland house in New York City, whither Mr. Hinman had gone to meet Charles T. Yerkes and complete the deal, which has been under way for several months.

Announcement was made officially in the East and in Chicago last night that Mr. Hinman, with the co-operation of eastern friends had secured all the stock; that Mr. Yerkes had turned over his holdings absolutely, and that Mr. Hinman is now the owner of the majority of the stock, the minority holders being eastern men exclusively.

Simultaneously it was given out that William Penn Nixon has retired as a stockholder, although he remains an officer and a director of the new company, the name of which is changed from The Inter Ocean Publishing Company to the Inter Ocean Newspaper Company.

HAS SPEED OF 400 MILES AN HOUR

An Electric Car Invention That Will Virtually Fly Through the Air.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 14.—Edward A. Kelly, a Norfolk electrician, has applied for a patent upon a car to be operated by electricity which he believes will carry the mails overland at the rate of 400 miles an hour. A working model shown appears to warrant him in his belief. The car is ship shaped, with wheels as high as the car itself. It is built on a theory that a magnet always goes to the larger end of a piece of iron. Between the rails Kelly has arranged a series of iron plates, small at one end and large at the other, the narrow ends all pointing one way. The magnetized car used as a model follows these plates at high speed. As it reaches the end of each plate the current is automatically cut off and the car jumps to the next plate. A half mile circular track and a larger car will be built for the inventor's next experiment.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 14.—The town of Pequaming in Baraga county, with a population of 500 is quarantined and business is suspended. Several cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria have appeared and the contagion is spreading. The schools, postoffice, churches and many stores are closed.

ROUSED BY LAKE CRIME.

Crown Point, Ind., Citizens Interested in Thomb's Case.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—If Louis Thomb's alleged slayer of Minnie Larson had anything to do with the Cedar Lake murder, the Chicago police will confer a favor on citizens of Crown Point, Ind., by sending some one to untangle the 3,000 individual theories that have been evolved there since Thomb's arrest. Every man, woman and child in that town has an idea on who committed the crime though none either there or at Cedar Lake knows just what the mysterious crime was. The mystery was stirred up afresh last week when the Chicago police announced that Thomb's wife had accused him, in addition to the Larson murder, of being involved in a similar crime at Cedar Lake, which is six miles from Crown Point.

SCHLEY FAMILY IS A LARGE ONE

Rear Admiral's Georgia Relatives Give Him a Royal Welcome

THEY ARE LOYAL

Ramifications of the Connections Extend All Over the Great South.

SCENES IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 14.—General W. W. Gordon, who is the acknowledged host of Rear Admiral Schley in Savannah, the Schley family, and the public are making it interesting for the man who won the battle of Santiago. Not the least of these agencies for the Rear Admiral's pleasure is the Schley family of Savannah and of southern Georgia.

"Schleys," repeated the Admiral to a correspondent and smiling in a whimsical way, "why I have been meeting Schleys whom I have never seen, and some, indeed, of whom I have not even heard. Down here in Georgia they seem to be likened unto the children of Israel. Certainly God seems to have prospered them and they are proving the old axiom that blood is thicker than water."

The Rear Admiral has dined with Schleys who are named Schley, and has dined with Schleys who have taken other names by marriage. He has met little Schleys, and Mr. Schley, young Schleys and old Schleys, and no one who has looked on at these meetings would question the mutual pleasures that were in them.

Schley's Friends Numerous.
By the city directory of Savannah there are six heads of Schley families in Savannah. By the same token there are only 293 Smiths, and some of these are of a Schley consanguinity that would force trouble in a moment slighting to the hero of Santiago. Not only in Savannah but in Columbus, Augusta, Atlanta, Macon, and other cities of the state are Schleys; who have been woven into the history and progress of Georgia for more than a hundred years.

The family root is Saxon. The family is blue of eve, and yellow of hair; marks that always have been interpreted as belonging to fearlessness and courage. The first Schley in America was John Jacob, who made a home for the family in Fredericktown, Md., in 1746. From this stock Schleys descended, spreading all down the Atlantic coast. Governor William Schley of Georgia, with his brother, Judge John Schley, uncle of the Rear Admiral, linked the name with Georgia in the 1700's; and today, in the little son of Julian Schley of Savannah, the Rear Admiral has remarked the blue eyes and auburn hair of the founders of the family. This little Schley was born only three weeks after the famous fight of Santiago.

Tell of Family Records
Comparing the Maryland Schleys and the Georgia Schleys at a family dinner the other night, the Rear Admiral referred to the fact that the history of neither criminals nor paupers in Maryland contained the name of a Schley.

"I will vouch for the same fact in Georgia," spoke Julian Schley, whose hair is even whiter than the rear admiral's, and who like the rear admiral's father, has given a son to the training that is to make a defender of the flag.

"We have been poor," continued this representative of the Savannah Schleys. "We saw our father's plantation taken with its negroes; its houses, barns, horses, and cattle run into they wreck and ruin of war. We saw our mother, heartbroken at this ruin and the necessities of a great conflict, die and leave seven children as half orphans with a penniless father. But we went to work, and by the grace of God, we have redeemed that which was lost of fortune."

These are the Schleys who have been making such welcome for the rear admiral in Savannah and who would make such welcome for him in half a dozen cities in the state if only circumstances would permit.

Today it is the Duckworths of Savannah whose breed Rear Admiral and Mrs. Schley are breaking, and Mrs. Duckworth is a Schley of Schleys.

Mr. and Mrs. Brill Emale of Waukesha are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kramer, of 101 Center avenue. Mrs. Emale will be remembered as Miss Hattie Kramer.

MASQUERADE OF A. O. U. W. ORDER

Some of the Costumes of the Maskers Were Very Fine—The Attendance Was Large.

The masquerade party of the A. O. U. W. which occurred at Assembly hall last evening was a huge affair, hardly having an equal in numbers of attendance and variety of maskers in this city for several seasons. Probably 400 people were present in the hall and of this number fully 300 were in mask. Some of the costumes of the maskers were very fine though the majority were simple and of a ludicrous nature. Farmers, negroes and laborers finding the larger representation, Henry Robinson masked as a foolish boy occasioned a great deal of favorable comment as did the masks of two young men who appeared in the guise of Indians.

The music was furnished by the John Smith orchestra and was of the usual excellent quality furnished by that organization. The masks were not removed until after 11 o'clock when the grand march was called. Mr. W. J. Hill and Miss Eliza Heller leading it. At the close of the march the committee awarded prizes for masks to the following persons: Fred Hiller, as a knight; gentlemen's comical costume, Henry Robinson, foolish boy; lady's best costume, Anna Brown, waiting maid; Louise Rupper, German lady. W. J. Hill in a big barrel suit was given special mention in the committee's report. The dance throughout was a great success and getting much well-deserved credit for the successful manner in which the affair was carried out.

Let us speak of man as we find him, And censure only what we can see. Remembering that no one is perfect, Unless he uses Rocky Mountain Tea Smith's Pharmacy.

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM LINE CITY

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 14.—Dr. Leavitt's class of more than thirty men of the First Congregational church meet Sunday noon in the church parlors to discuss important matters and current civic questions from an ethical standpoint. Sunday Prof. Chapin was to present the moral effect of the Monroe Doctrine but by unanimous consent the subject was changed for the consideration of the effect for good in a community of the lives of two old and much respected citizens, S. J. Todd and A. P. Waterman whose funerals occurred Saturday. The class is always informal and so many incidents and personal remembrances came out that if enlarged upon would have made much of the early history of Beloit. There were a few older ones in the class who remembered both these men in their prime before the war and others who had known them as leaders in the affairs of the city during and immediately after the war, while many had only known them in later years.

Messrs. Geo. E. and A. P. Redfield of Chicago, came to Beloit to attend the funeral of Mr. Waterman and were guests over Sunday of Dr. E. C. Helm and family. The Messrs. Redfield were clerks in Mr. Waterman's store in years gone by.

Football relations with the university of Minnesota are likely to be resumed next fall. Dr. Williams, coach and manager, has written Coach Hollister asking for a game and offering three halves or five of the best dates in the season.

A meeting of the Beloit Golf club is called for Tuesday night at Warner's book store to discuss a proposition to give another dancing party similar to the very successful one of a year ago, when the Janesville society people were present.

The dedication of the West Side chapel will be held on the last Sabbath in January. Rev. Miss Gale will preach the dedicatory sermon.

LIVELY RUNAWAY LAST EVENING

A horse belonging to George Rathgan, ran away last evening and came down East Milwaukee street at break-neck speed. The shafts had broken loose from the buggy on one side, and it was slowing around from side to side in danger of hitting anything that happened to be in its path.

There were three men in the buggy. One of them jumped out in front of the U. S. Express office and turned several somersaults before he stopped; another tried to get out at the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets and finally succeeded after being dragged some distance. The third man stuck to the buggy and was having a fast ride across the bridge when Art Ryan made a run for the animal and succeeded in catching it by the head.

He hung on like a burr and finally brought the horse to a standstill. It was an exceedingly daring act and probably saved the outfit from considerable injury. None of the men were much hurt and the horse and buggy sustained very little injury.

VERY BUSY DAY IN CONGRESS

The Senate Discusses the Proposed New Department of Commerce.

NELSON FOR THE MEASURE.

The Minnesota Senator Says It Is Greatly Needed—Subject Laid Over for Further Investigation—House Talks of Appropriating Money for Pensions.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—In the Senate Mr. Nelson of Minnesota called up the bill providing for the establishment of a department of commerce. After considerable discussion the bill went over, subject to call by Mr. Nelson. Mr. Nelson explained the necessity which he said existed for the passage of such a measure, and was pelted with questions by several Senators, who said that sufficient time had not been allowed for looking into the merits of the measure. Mr. Teller criticized that feature relating to the transfer of the Geological survey, while Mr. Hale said that the bill provided for a department which ultimately would be one of the largest in the government. Mr. Nelson said that the agricultural interests of the country are well taken care of by the Department of Agriculture, but the other great industries are without any direct government guidance or assistance. The necessity for a bureau of commerce had become more important and urgent every year. The great problem, he said, was to secure and hold greater and more extensive markets abroad. Without such a department we not only would be on an inequality with our industrial and commercial rivals but at a great disadvantage. He argued that such a department would protect laboring men against improper immigration and bring them into closer relation and better harmony with the employers of labor. It also would serve to remove the many clogs and drawbacks in all industrial developments.

House Cannot Bill Received.
The Hepburn Nicaragua canal bill was received from the House and referred to the Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals. Mr. Mason gave notice that to-morrow he would address the Senate in reference to Cuban customs duties, a bill and resolution relating to which was introduced by him to-day. At 1:45 the Senate went into executive session and at 3:12 adjourned.

Pension Discussion in House.
The House spent the day in general discussion of the pension appropriation bill, the first of the annual budgets. The debate took a wide range. Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio and Mr. Hepburn of Iowa denounced a report presented to the last G. A. R. encampment criticizing the course of themselves and other members of Congress on the veteran "preference" bill, which was defeated at the last session. They explained that their opposition to the bill was due to the incorporation in the bill of a clause which had not been indorsed by the G. A. R., placing veterans of the Spanish war in the preferential class. Mr. Rixey of Virginia caused something of a stir on the Democratic side by advancing a proposition to open the doors of national soldiers' homes to ex-confederates and to furnish federal aid to state confederate homes. Mr. Richardson of Alabama was the only Democrat who joined Mr. Rixey in support of it. Mr. Barney (Wis.), in charge of the bill, explained that it carried $129,846,480, as against $145,245,230 appropriated for the current year. The estimates for the payment of pensions decreased from $144,000,000 to $128,500,000. Mr. Barney explained that this was accounted for by the fact that the arrearages were decreasing and the number of large pensions (those from $50 to $75 a month) was also decreasing. He also stated that the Commissioner of Pensions believed the high tide of pension payments had been reached and the amount required probably would remain stationary for some years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel that words are but feeble to express a heart's gratitude, when there is so much to be thankful for as I have. I suffered with womb trouble for five years, and our family physician said an operation was needed; but I dreaded it, and reading of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound one day I decided to give it a trial first. To my great joy I found that after four months' treatment I was strong and well; I experienced no pain or trouble, and the Compound built up my entire system. TEMPERANCE IN RUSSIA.

Some six years ago Russia established an era of temperance reform, and the government decided to regulate and control the traffic in intoxicants. George Kennan gives a very interesting account of the work and its results in the last number of the "Outlook."

The common drink of that country is known as "vodka," and the ordinary saloon or drinking resort is called a kabak. The "vodka" is as villainous as forty-rod whisky and as cheap in price that the masses use it as beer is used in Germany.

The government bought out some 400 distilleries at an expense of $50,000,000, closed up all the saloons in the provinces east of the Ural, and is now conducting the manufacture and traffic under strict supervision, expecting to realize about $200,000,000 a year from sale and revenue.

Aside from the revenue, which is a success, the government had other objects in view. One of them was to substitute pure liquors for the injurious compounds frequently made and sold.

Another was to break up the saloon habit by forcing the people to take their "vodka" home. The government only sells in sealed packages and no drinking is permitted on the premises.

Tea shops, people's houses, libraries, summer gardens and cheap theaters, where people could find entertainment without liquor, were also established, and conducted at government expense, and these resorts were expected to work a much needed reform.

Results have not been all that were anticipated, and it is an open question whether the movement will become permanent. As a money getter it has proved quite satisfactory and in the larger cities some improvement is noted in the way of reformation, but in the smaller cities and towns, drunkenness and lawlessness are on the increase.

The people who formerly frequented saloons now buy their "vodka" and drink it on the street. They soon become intoxicated and boisterous, and are a constant menace to society. They have no trouble in finding beer companions, and so the revelry frequently becomes a violent mob, ready for any sort of crime and disturbance.

The effort, that Russia is making is prompted by a genuine desire for reformation. It is on a broad and liberal scale, and while not erratic, is theoretical. Appetite is never abolished, and seldom controlled by law, and habit is the legitimate offspring of appetite. It is well to put something better than the saloon, in the place of it. An ideal world would be saloonless, but so long as men crave drink they will have it, and no law has yet been discovered that will regulate the habit to any extent.

It is possible to change methods as Russia has done. Public sentiment, sometimes warrants prohibitionary laws, and these have been tested both by communities and states in this country. But the drink habit goes on. Iowa and Kansas pay monthly fines for keeping disorderly houses, and they are disorderly in the extreme.

There is only one way to effectually cure the drink habit, and that is to prevent its being formed. This means commencing at the foundation, with the boy, and following him through the years of development and starting him out in life, clean in morals and habits. A nation may not be born in a day, but it may be redeemed in a generation.

THE TWO CANAL ROUTES.

The question now before congress, concerning a waterway across the isthmus of Panama, is one of the most important that has ever commanded attention. That favorable action will be taken is already evidenced by a unanimous vote in the house, and a similar endorsement is expected in the senate.

The two routes under discussion—the Panama and Nicaragua—are perplexing, and while the house has voted to adopt the latter, it is doubtful if the senate will concur. Both routes offer advantages that require careful consideration. The Panama, partially constructed, can be bought of the French stockholders for $40,000,000. This route, from ocean to ocean, is about one-third the distance of the Nicaragua route, and the work already done can be utilized, so that the expense of construction would be materially less. On the other hand, the route is 500 miles farther from New York and the concessions from the Columbia government are not as valuable as granted by Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

Both routes have been thoroughly canvassed, and in fact the ground has been carefully surveyed by the United States and other governments, a number of times during the past half century. The Nicaragua route has some very serious objections to overcome in the way of quicksands and expensive locks, while the Panama is practically on a sea level. The climate, however, of Panama, is so full of malaria, that none but natives are able to live there. The French canal, while in process of construction, was a charnel house.

It is more than likely the Nicaraguan route will be selected. It means the saving of 9,000 miles in distance between New York and San Francisco, and a proportionate saving to other sea-going ports.

The undertaking is worthy of American enterprise, and if the decision is favorable the work will be pushed rapidly.

CALL IT A SPADE.

Senator Whitehead would make a mighty strong man for governor. If he could reconcile his Y. M. C. A. supporters to the members of the Pfister gang in Milwaukee, who are now shouting for this good and true exponent of purity and homeopathic tax reform, La Crosse Chronicle.

The Chronicle may not be the mouthpiece of the governor. If not, it is a political orphan, and a long ways from home. It is one of the trio of organs in the state that never loses an opportunity to abuse every man who does not bow meekly to the will of the Madison magnate.

It may be a crime to have the good will of the Y. M. C. A. If so, there are many criminals at large. Morality and a regard for the right may be elements of weakness. If so, it has yet to be discovered.

Senator Whitehead is neither a bigot, a fool, nor a fanatic. He possesses the grace of rare common sense. His private life is above reproach, commanding the respect of all who know him, and his public career has won the confidence of the masses throughout the state.

If the Chronicle imagines that flings and innuendoes can injure him, or if the paper anticipates that warfare of that sort will strengthen a cause that is already weak, it is much mistaken.

The men and the papers who do not agree with Governor La Follette have never descended to the level of personal abuse. On the other hand, he has been commended for the good qualities possessed, and the opposition to him is clearly defined as against his leadership and public policy.

The best material that can be furnished by the Chronicle and organs of that class in the kind noted at the head of this article. There is never anything gained by calling a spade anything else.

NOT AS REPRESENTED.

The Milwaukee Free Press of Saturday contained a letter that purported to come from Janesville, in which the claim is made that Senator Whitehead is weak in his own city and county. The claim is so gauzy that it is hardly worth noticing.

The facts are that if the senator had remained in the field two years ago the city and county would have been with him without opposition. This fact was so well established that the little coterie of La Follette supporters acknowledged it.

Senator Whitehead has steadily gained in strength, at home, as well as throughout the state, and he enjoys the confidence and support of a united constituency.

The Milwaukee organ will fail to make capital by misrepresentation. The voice of the people is more potent than the voice or pen of any organ, and the Janesville senator at the present time has the ear of the masses.

You can't all be the governor of the great state of Wisconsin. In fact there don't seem to be any chance for 1,399,998 of us and public sentiment seems to be divided on the balance of the population. When the clouds roll by, the majority will be increased by one.

The American volunteers in the Philippines are many of them anxious to return, and the government is having some trouble in filling their places. It may be necessary to increase the size of the standing army.

With Senator Bennett and Mr. Alexander out of the race, Gov. La Follette would seem to have a clear field, but appearances are sometimes deceiving.

The life of a governor is not all sunshine. Whiteheaded clouds like thunder caps occasionally loom up from a clear sky when least expected.

Governor Shaw is accused by the La Crosse Chronicle of attempting to be funny, when he accepted the treasury portfolio. The Chronicle should change its goggles.

Lewis Nixon is said to be the successor of Richard Croker in Tammany hall. Mayor Low may act as a balance wheel to the new member.

Adlai Stevenson is a possible candidate for 1904. He is the only man who has been able to forecast the future for democracy.

The man who never drinks commands more respect than the back door patron, who professes temperance, with a large "T."

Postmaster General Payne is now installed and ready for business. His Wisconsin critics are wondering who hit Billy Patterson.

If France fails to sell the Panama ditch, what will she do with it?

The Nicaragua canal is the next thing in order.

There are several things that contribute to prosperity. Public approval is necessary to success in public life.

Miss Stone is reported to have been released.

PRESS COMMENT.

Chippewa Independent: The only thing stirring in political circles is a story to the effect that the stalwart leaders are engaged in fixing things so as to give the support of the German republican papers to Whitehead. At first it will be in the nature of non-committal favorable notices of his speech, and later on articles in favor of making him the republican candidate for governor. The stories abound that he is too strict a Sunday observance and temperance man to be a vote getter in German circles are refuted by the statement that it does not make much difference what a governor thinks, matters of that kind are managed by local public sentiment, and further that Mr. Whitehead is a man of too much good sense to attempt to force his own ideas upon the state.

To the Editor of The Journal: Your reporter made me say that I would not be a candidate for renomination as senator from this district. In the convention I understood him to ask me whether I would be ready to talk about being a candidate for governor. I said: "I am ready now. I am out of it." I had no thought of the senatorship during the conversation. I am not out of politics. I stand where I have stood, being one of the stalwarts working for republican success in the state.

A. M. JONES.

Waukesha, Wis., Jan. 11.

The Milwaukee Journal recently published a statement that Mr. Jones was out of politics. The above statement speaks for itself.

While The Janesville Gazette confesses it would like to see Senator Whitehead of that city nominated by the republicans for the next governor, it is free to state that in case Governor La Follette is successful in again capturing the prize there will be no question that he can count on the loyal support of the Janesville aspirant. The Gazette says: "Should the governor be renominated, he will have Senator Whitehead's support. He spent time and money for him two years ago, and will do so again if occasion requires, because he is a Rock county republican and they belong to the breed that is noted for loyalty."

Marquette Eagle: Senator John M. Whitehead's recent exposition on taxation presents the subject in a very clear and forcible light, and he advocates a method which is practical, sensible and impartial. Unlike many so-called party leaders, Mr. Whitehead believes in treating all men fairly. He recognizes the relative value of capital as well as of labor, and dispenses any attempt to infringe on the rights of either. For the fuller development of the state, capital must be encouraged to invest, and yet it must at all times pay its full share of the burden of the cost of government and improvement. A system that will treat all alike, is what is needed and that is what the gentleman from Janesville is in favor of.

Racine Journal: Senator Whitehead, in his noted address on tax reform, has climbed to the top in one jump. The great merit of his views on this most absorbing topic is that he is perfectly fair, and above all, understands what he is talking about. This is the sort of a man who should be governor.

Ex-Governor Hoard has gone to Washington to lobby against oleomargarine, which, by the way, is much less objectionable than the tons of soap grease butter which is being daily foisted upon Wisconsin consumers, right in the midst of the best dairy possibilities in the world.—Apleton Crescent.

La Crosse Republican-Leader: The passage of time does not detract from the interest shown in Senator Whitehead's Madison speech on taxation. On the other hand, it is apparent that that senator has struck a popular chord in the public heart and it is beating in unison with his views to a remarkable degree.

Omar Herald: An effort is being made by the Northwestern Teachers' association to bring about a reform in the present system of spelling, and a committee of eleven persons has been appointed to circulate petitions. Now, this may be a good thing, but we fear of the pyram that the best way to spell is to spell it the first time, then reform will not be necessary.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The Milwaukee Sentinel casually slaps a certain portion of the Wisconsin press when it says: "It will be noticed that the papers that protest the loudest against the iniquity of subsidizing the press are the ones whose virtue is subject to suspicion."

Green Bay Gazette: They are testing a voting machine in Madison which is said to be wonderful things. It can beat he Dane county machine. It is indeed a comer and its originator can rely upon becoming governor of the state some day.

Milwaukee Sentinel: "Stand on principle, not on patronage," says Richard Croker, warning Tammany's new chief. The governor of Wisconsin will please note that the versatile game warden is a dangerous political agent.

Hudson True Republican, dem.: The face that seems to be appearing on the eastern horizon is that of Senator Whitehead. The one that is going down on the other side is not so easily distinguished.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The republicans of Fond du Lac and Fond du Lac county would have been very well contented two years ago, marching under a Whitehead banner.

If the sentiment has changed any since that time it has been intensified in favor of the Janesville man.

Milwaukee News: Now that the Mississippi legislature has resolved that Schley was in command at Santiago and is entitled to the glory of the victory, why shouldn't the incident be closed?

Milwaukee Journal: The fact that Senator Spooner is pushing the bill for a $300,000 federal building at Superior ought to please the inhabitants who listened to the speech of Nils P. Haugen last summer.

WOMAN IN "SHACKLETT." Some of the remarks about woman-kind in Walter Barr's novel Shacklett (Appletons), which is being read just now, are these:

The girls are what keep a hot afternoon from fading into vapor. I really like the woman in politics when she is a politician, for you can depend on her.

Love is to be taken as we find it, without philosophy, science, analysis, or even much description. I never knew it to fail yet, but when a woman went into politics and got along as far as practical politics, she went to the very bottom of the sea at once.

The turmoil in the mind of a strong woman brought face to face with her sins, is much analogous to that opening of the river which those who live on the Mississippi appreciate. Now, that the same girl that thought she couldn't marry a man that had squired a state senator, when she did decide to be naughty and become an accessory after the fact, took a header clear to the bottom of the gulch.

A woman ought to be able to teach attitude to a man who loves her, but that is all she can do. She can't give him more strength or change his mental or moral physique, but she can put strong muscles into the best position for most effective use for good.

Every pilot worthy of his license can take a boat through a tortuous channel sixty feet wide and talk to a bevy of pretty girls at the same time; and the more a girl admires genuine manhood, the more she likes to talk to a Mississippi pilot—he is the last remnant remaining in evolutionary form of the best of the knights of old.

You can't always tell what a man will do, for there are all kinds of men in politics; but there are only two kinds of women: the ones who want to run politics as they do a church, but they don't amount to much in results; and the ones that take the bull by the horns and do in politics as the politicians do, and they go the whole thing.

DEMAND FOR BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Month of March Has for Years
Been the Banner Month for Drawing Books.

Things are rushing at the city library and the demand for books is double what it was a month ago. So stated Miss Gertrude Sklavem, assistant librarian at the city library, to a Gazette reporter in quest of information on library matters yesterday afternoon. During and in the weeks just preceding the holidays the demand for books shows a decided decrease and the patronage of the reading rooms is brighter than usual. This is explained by the fact that the hustle and bustle attendant upon the holiday season as well as the increase in the number of social gatherings at this time of the year occupies the attention of the public and gives it little time or inclination for reading. By the end of the first week in January, however, the demands of business and society having largely decreased and the weather that frequently prevails, preventing the indulgence of outdoor pastimes, a reaction sets in. And the public again turns to literature for its recreation and amusement and the libraries have a larger circulation than at any other season of the year and the librarian's desk is besieged with applicants for the latest books.

They being usually preferred, irrespective of their quality over the books which have stood the test of time and have become recognized as classics. By the first week in March the demand for books is at flood tide and for years this has been the banner month in point of circulation at the local library. More books are issued during the shortest of months than any other month in the year.

Last March the number of books issued reached a grand total of 5,829 which is about one book to every third person in the city. A good showing from an educational standpoint and about the usual per cent of readers for communities of this size, that are not educational centers, as shown by the librarian reports. Of the number of books issued full 80 per cent are fiction and the remaining 20 per cent are books of travel, histories, biographies and a sprinkling of work of a scientific nature.

The fiction writers whose works at the present time are in greater demand are Charles Gordon, who writes under the non-de-plume of Ralph Cormac and who became famous in the literary world as the author of the Black Rock; Winston Churchill, whose novel, The Crisis, is probably the best known of his works and which is declared by some to be the greatest American novel and, Gilbert Parker whose best claim to be known as a literature is based upon the authorship of The Wright of Way. Among the old favorites, Charles King and Marion Crawford still hold a prominent place while the demand for the works of the French writers, Balzac, Hugo and Dantes is decidedly slack at the present time, the public giving the preference to the late books of the home authors.

The things which tend to increase the circulation of books and enlarge the reading public are the extensive advertising of popular books by the press and clergy, the performance of the dramatization of a popular novel at the local theater and the study of literature and history by the local women's clubs. There are but few books on the shelves of the local library that at some time during the year do not find a reader of these few are of a local historical or of a scientific nature and are either worthless or obsolete.

DR. W. P. ROBERTS ANSWERS WINGATE

He Says Quite a Percentage of the Cows of Wisconsin Are Tubercular.

Editor Gazette:—I do not think that my views on tuberculosis are as fantastic as Dr. Wingate has tried to represent.

Veterinarians say that quite a percentage of the cows of Wisconsin are tubercular. That being the case a large number of children, variously estimated at from 3,000 to 5,000 have been fed on tubercular milk the first two years of their lives, and this without the knowledge of their parents. Now my proposition is that from 25 to 50 of these children, known to be predisposed to tuberculosis be put under the observance of Prof. Russell, the celebrated bacteriologist of the University of Wisconsin. That he shall choose competent physicians to attend them and report to him weekly. They have already unwittingly had the milk.

Now if Koch's theory is true not more than one or two of them will die with tuberculosis in three years. If not then 75 to 80 per cent. will die. Dr. Wingate tries to hold me up to ridicule for proposing a dangerous experiment when he knows better.

Instead of making a dangerous experiment Prof. Russell would take them off tubercular milk when he found them and put them under the best hygienic conditions and their lives would be prolonged and perhaps saved.

Dr. Wingate says he is as anxious as any one to advance science.

With a good salary from the state and the whole power of the state behind him to what can he point as having done in this direction?

He is willing to sit down and take the issue dixit of others.

The emergency was created to be used by the state board of health upon the sanction of the governor to suppress cholera and other contagious diseases.

Tuberculosis is declared by nearly all boards of health to be a contagious disease.

No, Dr. Wingate, my proposition to the state board of health saves lives while if you believe what you say you do, and refuse to make the test and children go on using tubercular milk and die you and not I are the responsible one.

Dr. W. P. Roberts.

LIVELY RUNAWAY CAUSES BRUISES

A horse driven by Edward Banfield a farmer, who was visiting the city yesterday afternoon, ran away and succeeded in ruining the buggy and distributing a goodly number of bruises between its two occupants. The incident occurred on Magnolia street. Mr. Banfield who was accompanied by Charles Jellyman, stated that they were driving quietly along when the horse, becoming suddenly frightened at a newly constructed culvert, turned abruptly about and overthrew the buggy. The animal's continued struggles disengaged it from the buggy and it continued for some distance down the street where it was caught. The occupants of the buggy received no serious injuries but the buggy was a wreck.

This morning the platform at the St. Paul station, looked as if a first class poultry exhibition was in progress. Express trucks were piled high with crates of chickens, pigeons and ducks enroute to Stoughton where the annual exhibition of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry association is being held this week.

Jacob Frodeland, of this city, had several crates of plymuth rocks; Vincent North of Milton had a number of crates of different classes of fowls. There were also a number of crates from other exhibitors. The most interesting lot at the station were the fancy pigeons belonging to W. F. Breyvogel, of Brodhead. He had ten coops filled with Fantails, Homers, Jacobins, Archangels, Dragons, Tumblers, Orols and Pouters. They were a beautiful lot of birds and were entirely different from the ordinary pigeons seen about the city.

Parties and Balls.

It is women's province to look as pretty as they can. Men admire beautiful women, and most men are anxious to have their wife fix up some. A neatly dressed head of hair adds materially to the attractiveness of any woman, and women who are interested in the subject of hair dressing can learn much by visiting our store and watching the lady who is demonstrating how to use the fine-de-Siecle comb which she has for sale. Surprising how pretty one can make oneself look by means of one of these combs.

Distracting
Head Noises

Due to Catarrh—Annoy by Day and Prevent Sleep at Night.

The projections of tissue on each side of the head are not the ears—that is, the real ears. What we usually call the ears are only contrivances to catch sound waves and conduct them to the real mechanism of hearing further inside the head. The internal ears, the real ears, are contained off from the outside air by the ear drums, and yet it is necessary to have air in the middle ears to conduct sounds to the structures that impress their vibrations on the brain. This air for the middle ear comes warm from the throat through little passages called the "eustachian tubes." The blood-heated nose and throat warm this air and free it of all dust and irritants before it reaches such delicate structures as are most concerned in the sense of hearing.

The most common cause of deafness is a blocking up of the eustachian tubes by extension of catarrh into them. While the shutting off of air from the throat causes hardness of hearing, so far as external sounds are concerned, it is apt to imprison certain other sounds made by the circulation in the head or conducted along such hard structures as communicate with the internal ear. These head noises or imprisoned sounds are very perplexing and sometimes almost distracting, vexing and annoying by day and preventing sleep at night. These sounds are varied as they are confusing. They are often likened to the purring of a cat, the roaring of a seashell, the rumbling of machinery, the buzzing of a bee or fly, the humming of a mosquito or of a humming bird, the trilling of bells, the singing of a tea ket le, the crackling of a wood fire, the hissing of a snake or goose, the murmur of running water, the swooping of the wind, etc.

Nine-tenths of the cases of deafness are due to catarrh, and nearly all cases of progressive hardness of hearing, especially if one can hear better some times than at others and if troubled with head noises, are caused by catarrh of the eustachian tubes, or where only one ear is affected with too little sound from the outside and too much from the inside the catarrh has gotten into one tube only.

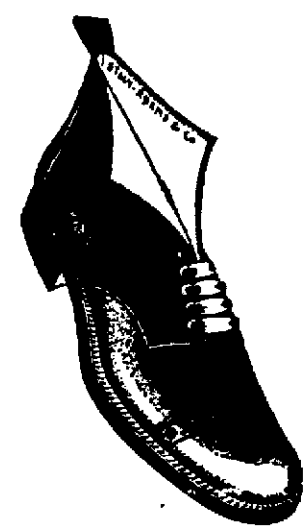

An attorney and public speaker, who had been a catarrh sufferer for years says:

"Every fall I would catch a cold which would settle in my head, and throat and hang on all winter long and every winter it seemed to get a little worse. I was continually clearing my throat and my voice became affected to such an extent as to interfere with my public speaking."

"I tried troches and cheap cough cures and sometimes got relief, but only for a short time, until this winter when I learned of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, through a newspaper advertisement. Two fifty-cent boxes which I bought at my druggists, cleared my head and throat in fine shape and to guard against a return of my old trouble I keep a box of the tablets on hand and whenever I catch a little cold I take a tablet or two and ward off any serious developments."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, acting on catarrh only through the blood, will reach and cure catarrh in the eustachian tubes as well as elsewhere, and this is why so many who have taken it for nasal catarrh have been surprised at being cured of their deafness and head noises.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets cure all kinds of catarrh of all parts of the body. Acting through the blood, they reach every part alike. They are sold at all drug stores for 50 cents a box.

FIVE MAD DOGS ATTACK.

An Ohio Family Has Exciting Fight with Rabid Animals.

East Liverpool, Ohio, Jan. 14.—Attacked in their home by five mad dogs Elmer S. Good and family, who live in Chester, W. Va., opposite this city, came off victorious in a fight for their lives in the morning. The family had just seated themselves at the breakfast table when Mr. Good's beagle, followed by four others, dashed into the room, snapping and snarling at everything with which they came in contact. There are several children in the family, who with the mother, after fighting the animals with chairs, climbed on the table. Neighbors attempted a rescue and one was severely bitten. Mr. Good finally got his shotgun and ended the affair.

Death Ends Bright Life.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—In the body of Warren Lincoln Getchell, which has been lying in the morgue for several days, County Commissioner Organ identified a former friend, whose father is a wealthy manufacturer in Cincinnati. Getchell at one time was secretary of the Hussman Crucible company, with offices in the Monadnock building. A marriage without the paternal consent was followed by separation from his family, and financial reverses later brought for Getchell a stormy career in Chicago and St. Louis. Several weeks ago Getchell presented himself at Commissioner Organ's home worn with disease. He was sent to the County Hospital, where he died.

Julia Arthur Injured.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Benjamin P. Cheney, who was known as Julia Arthur when upon the stage, was injured in a runaway accident in the afternoon. At the Parker House, where she and her husband live, they engaged a low, open sleigh. The two had just seated themselves in it when the horse suddenly ran away. Mrs. Cheney is suffering from severe bruises on the left side of her neck and body as the result of striking against the electric car. No bones are broken, and there are apparently no internal injuries.
